Mylan Classic Surpasses 2010 Ticket Sales

ANSYS TICKETS Fore CHARITY™ program benefiting local charities

For Immediate Release
July 13, 2011

CANONSBURG, Pa.—Officials from the Mylan Classic announced today that the tournament has surpassed 2010 ticket sales figures through the ANSYS TICKETS Fore CHARITY program. With about one month until the second annual Mylan Classic begins, the tournament already has raised more than $290,000 for participating charities.

Last year the tournament generated more than $234,000 in ticket sales, a first-year Nationwide Tour TICKETS Fore CHARITY record. Following the event, an additional $97,000 was donated by the Mylan Classic to local non-profit organizations.

TICKETS Fore CHARITY is a PGA TOUR co-sponsored program developed by Jeff Sanders Promotions, a Portland-based sports marketing company, and organizers of the Nationwide Tour's Albertsons Boise Open Presented by Kraft. Designed to create funding opportunities for 501(c)(3) non-profit organizations, TICKETS Fore CHARITY allows participating non-profit organizations to sell Mylan Classic tournament tickets and retain 100% of the proceeds. Additionally, ANSYS has contributed $35,000 to a bonus pool that will be distributed among the participating charities based on their percentage of sales to the overall program.

"We are so impressed with the local support and the overall positive impact that the ANSYS TICKETS Fore CHARITY program has produced for the participating charitable organizations in 2011," said Jim Cashman, ANSYS president and CEO. "In an effort to continue to build on the momentum of last year's success and to help make this year's tournament a record-breaking event, ANSYS is pleased to continue our sponsorship of the TICKETS Fore CHARITY program. We are truly honored to continue to play a role in helping to make the Mylan Classic benefit our local community and the non-profit organizations that deliver much-needed support for those across Washington County and western Pennsylvania."

As a community event, the Mylan Classic offers both championship golf and entertainment for the whole family. Weekly tournament tickets for the Mylan Classic are priced at $25 and include admission for the tournament itself as well as concerts by Jerrod Niemann, Steel Magnolia, Scott Blasey, Joe Grushecky and The Spinners. Also scheduled for tournament week are the Youth Clinic presented by Highmark, Women's Golf Clinic presented by Washington Hospital, pro-am events and a Military Appreciation Day.

The Mylan Classic is part of the PGA TOUR's 26-event Nationwide Tour in 2011. It will be held Aug. 29 to Sept. 4 at Southpointe Golf Club in Canonsburg, Pa. The event will draw 156 Nationwide Tour professionals from as many as 20 countries vying for one of the 25 PGA TOUR cards that will be awarded to the leading money winners at the end of the year. Also descending on Washington County during tournament week will be the players' families, caddies, pro-am participants, corporate guests, television crews and other news media, PGA TOUR staff members and thousands of spectators. Golf Channel will televise all four rounds of the Mylan Classic in the U.S. Internationally, it will be distributed via the PGA TOUR to 72 countries and territories, including Japan, China and parts of Europe and Latin America.
